

Hear songs written by Readlyn's Emelie Osnes at the ball

Come to the Keep Your Heart in Readlyn Valentine's Ball on Friday, February 8, 2019 and hear Miss Readlyn (Cassidy Brunscheon) sing songs that were written by Readlyn's Mrs. Emelie Osnes.

She was the wife of Dr. Osnes and published these songs in 1929.

Emelie wrote the words to three songs. The songs are "Love Is A Dance," Silver Wreath," and "Hand in Hand." These were given to the Historical Society by Shirley Thurm of Denver.

The Osnes were in Readlyn from 1919 to 1942. After the hospital closed it became apartments and Shirley said the Lobeck family had lived in one of them. She remembers taking piano lessons along with her sister, Carol.

The sheet music was found in a piano bench owned by Shirley's uncle, Ray Kueker.

The Readlyn Historical Museum thanks you for this contribution to Readlyn's history

Donate to Wapsie Valley Athletic Boosters organization to help fund baseball/softball diamond lights!

Are you over age 70-½ and have an IRA? If so, you are required to take an annual RMD (required minimum distribution) by December 31. Did you know you can donate your RMD, up to a maximum annual exclusion of $100,000, as a Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD) to a charity?

A QCD is generally a nontaxable distribution made directly by the trustee of your IRA to an organization eligible to receive tax deductible contributions, such as a (501(c) status. Wapsie Valley Athletic Boosters is a qualified charity and is looking for donations for our Lights Fund.

What is the Lights Fund for?

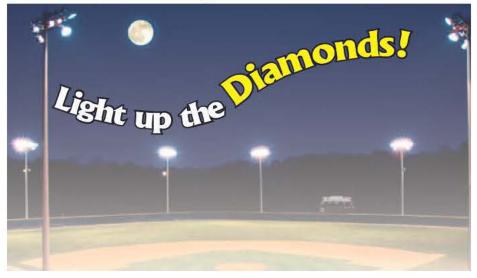

The Lights Fund is for adding lights to the softball and baseball diamonds at Wapsie Valley High School. The estimated cost for both diamonds is almost $500,000. Therefore, we are investigating all resources to help fund this great event. Our goal is to get the funding so that we will have lights by the 2020 seasons.

How can I donate under a Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD)?

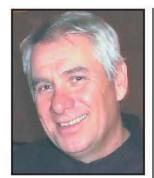

Contact your tax advisor to verify you are eligible and if this is right for you. If so, contact the trustee of your IRA and request them to a QCD to send a check made payable directly to Wapsie Valley Athletic Boosters – Lights Fund, PO Box 344, Fairbank, IA 50629.

Thank you for your support!

Hi Everyone!

December is more than half gone and Christmas is just around the corner. Thankfully, we have had a pretty mild and snowless season so far.

The City continues its Christmas Light Promotion. If you have Christmas lights decorating your home, you are entitled to some free lights from the City. Stop in City Hall for information if you haven't already done

As I mentioned before, the City of Readlyn is applying for a grant program for refurbish several homes.

We need to meet some income qualifications to get in the program. In cooperation with Iowa Northland Regional Government, we are sending out a survey to certain areas of town, so please take time and fill it out. Please don't forget it! It's important! If it is not filled out, it will count as a non-compliant survey.

If you have questions please call or stop into City Hall. Thanks for your help.

This week, contractors are still working on the wetlands project. It looks like we are headed to finish in the spring, but we'll see what the weather does.

Barney and Austin are starting on switching out water meters. The plan is to have all meters exchanged by spring. So, don't be surprised if the guys get hold of you to get that done. If you have questions don't hesitate to call City Hall. This project will take some time, so don't be surprised if you hear from us!

At our next City Council meeting, we will be hearing from all departments to discuss next year's budget. This will set our schedule to get projects accomplished next year. The City does plan to get a drainage line along Malone Avenue in this year's projects as we are working with contractors to get estimates in this winter.

Connie and I would like to personally extend to all you a very merry and safe Happy Holidays!

Dan Wedemeier, Mayor

CLIP AND SAVE!

Tripoli-Readlyn Sanitation Agency

will observe the following holidays in 2019. There will be no garbage pick up on the following days:

If garbage is not picked up due to a holiday, the next garbage pickup day, each household is allowed to put out 1 (one) extra bag without a tag. This bag may not be larger than 32 gallon and must not weigh over 50 pounds.

Please remember that all lids must be snapped down and attached or garbage will not be picked up.

We are almost to the end of 2018, but many events have taken place recently.

On Thursday, December 6, many of the past Readlyn Grumps got together for supper at The Watering Hole. A total of seventeen people were in attendance. A lot of memories were hashed over.

I went to the library for the Cookie Walk and bought everything that looked good and sampled the hot cider and cookies.

This past Thursday, Janet and I went to Christmas on Main in Waverly. Lots of people and everything looked very nice. Hopefully, next year there will be a Grump on Main again at Christmastime in Readlyn. I believe they are trying to do that every other year.

Readlyn had a visit from Santa on Saturday, December 15, at the elementary school in Readlyn. Approximately 75 kids had a visit with Santa, and I made sure that each child received a sack. They also could listen to stories, read by Miss Readlyn.

The day after Santa's visit, several members of St. Matthew's went caroling in Readlyn and surrounding areas.

By the time this month's paper is out, everyone should have celebrated Christmas with family and friends. Also, we celebrated the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem.

The decorations in the park and along Main Street have been very pretty again this Christmas season. Thanks to many helping hands to make this happen.

We have been very fortunate to have nice weather so far this winter, with only a small amount of snow and very little cold weather. In fact, today it was in the 40s.

I moved my American flag to half staff due to the death of former President Bush.

Janet and I would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Merry Christmas everyone! Christmas is the time of giving back to others and feeling the holiday cheer. My family gathers at my Grandma's after the church Sunday School Christmas program and has either her homemade chili or clam chowder. I love seeing the town decorated with lights and listening to my favorite holiday classics such as The Christmas Song and What Child is This. I also love making candy with my mom every year. We make caramels, fudge, and toffee and let me tell you, they go fast in my house!

This year, the National Honor Society had an annual service project where items are brought to school for families in our community that are in need. Each class was assigned certain items and the student body is encouraged to bring those items in to help out the community. It fills my heart to see how many people are willing to give in order to make other people's holiday season brighter.

On Saturday, December 15, the City of Readlyn held Santa Day at the Readlyn Elementary. At Santa day, there were cookies and hot cocoa, a chance to meet Santa and the Grump, some great tunes by Zach Boevers, and a turkey raffle! I read Christmas books and handed out balls to the kids. I had so much fun reading to all the children that sat down and listened. There was one girl who sat with me the minute she got there until the minute the event was over (I called her my number one fan). The whole event was such a success and I want to thank everyone who organized the event and all who came out!

At school, winter activities are in full swing. Wrestling and basketball seasons have started. All the teams have been very successful so far, and I wish them a good season. Speech season has started and I'm glad to say we have added many new members this year. The team is doing a Reader's Theater, which is readers performing while reading from a script adapted from literature. This year our selection is about fairy tales that have a little twist to them. I'm so excited for the season and all the new talent on the team!

The music department had a lot of activity this holiday season. The holiday concert was the week before Christmas, and we are already working on new songs for the upcoming year. The choir took the final day of school before winter break to go caroling in the Readlyn and Fairbank communities, including the elementaries. We are also busy fundraising for our spring music trip. We are selling walking tacos and DQ blizzards at home basketball games. Thank you to everyone for supporting the arts!

Wishing you a very Merry Christmas and the best of everything in 2019!

January's title: A Gentleman in Moscow

Pick up a copy at the library and join us for discussion on Thursday January 31st at 7:00 pm

He can't leave his hotel. You won't want to.

[A Gentleman in Moscow] is laced with sparkling threads (they will tie up) and tokens (they will matter): special keys, secret compartments, gold coins, vials of coveted liquid, old-fashioned pistols, duels and scars, hidden assignations (discreet and smoky), stolen passports, a ruby necklace, mysterious letters on elegant hotel stationery . . . a luscious stage set, backdrop for a downright Casablanca-like drama." —The San Francisco Chronicle

From the New York Times bestselling author of Rules of Civility—a transporting novel about a man who is ordered to spend the rest of his life inside a luxury hotel.

In 1922, Count Alexander Rostov is deemed an unrepentant aristocrat by a Bolshevik tribunal, and is sentenced to house arrest in the Metropol, a grand hotel across the street from the Kremlin. Rostov, an indomitable man of erudition and wit, has never worked a day in his life, and must now live in an attic room while some of the most tumultuous decades in Russian history are unfolding outside the hotel's doors. Unexpectedly, his reduced circumstances provide him entry into a much larger world of emotional discovery.

Brimming with humor, a glittering cast of characters, and one beautifully rendered scene after another, this singular novel casts a spell as it relates the count's endeavor to gain a deeper understanding of what it means to be a man of purpose.

II Vets from Readlyn area

Within the past year we lost two World War II veterans, Ernest Poock and Oscar Heidemann, both in their middle nineties. We have two WW II veterans remaining in Readlyn, Wilbert Huebner and Paul Tiedt. I regret that Ernest and Oscar were not contacted.

Wilbert Huebner

Wilbert Huebner was born April 7, 1920, and raised on a farm just south of the Klinger Church and attended the parochial school there. He attended Readlyn High School and played center on the basketball team. Readlyn was county champ in 1938. He had an outstanding game against Waverly B team to win the Bremer County Championship. He graduated in 1938 and farmed with his Dad until enlisting in WWII one month after Pearl Harbor.

Wilbert wanted to become a pilot in the Army Air Force but was rejected because some college credit was needed to qualify. There was a Coast Guard recruiter in the area and he inquired about joining. He was told that if he had a clean record he would be accepted. He signed and was given a month to straighten up his business affairs then was sent to New Orleans where he received his basic training.

His first assignment was patrolling the beach at night. The purpose of nightly patrols was to keep enemy agents from putting ashore in darkness. At first patrolling was done afoot which Wilbert hated. At this time the US Army was converting its cavalry units to a mechanized force (tanks, armored trucks, etc.), and had many horses which were now obsolete. Many of these horses were assigned to the Coast Guard where they were used on nightly beach patrols.

His next assignment was duty on a Destroyer Escort ship, a highly maneuverable vessel only 300 feet long. These ships were placed on the outer rim of a convey to prevent the many German submarines from penetrating the convoy and raising havoc.

Wilbert Huebner

His final assignment was aboard a troop transport hauling troops between the US and North Africa. Toward the end of the war, the troop ships no longer needed the protection of a convoy and sailed independently. The positions of the U-boats were pinpointed and could be avoided.

"My memories include: those frightful North Atlantic crossings escorting 90 to 110 merchant ships of all classes to and into the Mediterranean Sea North African ports beating off the Nazi U-boats and beating off German air raids in the Mediterranean Sea; those 24- to 28-day Atlantic crossings; those frequent General Quarter Alarms when danger appeared; eating powdered milk, powdered eggs and buggy bread with sliced cold cuts; many days of only sandwiches and coffee; those 40-foot seas where we had to be strapped into our radar chair and strapped into our bunk to get a good night's sleep when possible; those salt water showers were not so great either. Many times the Exec Officer and I did not see alike. He could not get along with me so I transferred to the USS General M. C. Miegs. It was the best move I made in my naval experience in WWII. I would not take a million dollars for my experiences and would not give a dime for any more."

Wilbert spent much of his time in service on the North Atlantic Ocean which is renowned for vicious storms and high seas. Twenty-two trips Wilbert made across the Atlantic. Wilbert was honorably discharged February 28, 1946.

After discharge Wilbert worked at John Deere and other jobs; however, his father sensed he was not happy. His father suggested that he, his father, purchase the neighboring farm in 1947 to help Wilbert get started in farming. Wilbert reimbursed his father.

Wilbert married Irene Schroeder October 26, 1947 and has three sons, Daniel, an investment broker, Bruce and Rick, who farm. Wilbert worked for the US Post Office as a mail carrier for 31 years until 1986. He left the farm after 40 years in November of 1979, moving to the home in Readlyn in which he still lives. In retirement Wilbert enjoyed golf and he and Irene were avid ballroom dancers. Irene died in 2010. It is amazing that Wilbert is able to live unassisted as he is now 99 years old.

Paul Tiedt

Paul Tiedt was born on the John Tiedt farm, the second farm west of the Wapsi on the south side of Highway 3. He attended a one-room country schoolhouse a short distance west of their driveway. At one time, Carlene Buhr Werner was his teacher.

After eighth grade, Paul stayed home to help on the farm. He was the firstborn and was needed on the farm, typical of farming at that time. Later he worked as a hired man for Dick Strottman and Ray Thomes.

Pearl Harbor was bombed December 7, 1941. In 1945, when he was twenty, Paul received his draft orders. He was sent to Fort Snelling in Minnesota for induction where he was issued his army clothing then sent to Fort Lewis, Washington for basic training. After basic and a ten-day furlough, Paul traveled by train to Fort bombed into rubble. Later, the United Jackson, South Carolina for orientation and preparation for overseas. Next, New York to La Harve, France, where Paul was assigned as a military policeman. Then he traveled on a 40 and 8 WWI era boxcar (either 40 soldiers or 8 horses) with no seats or chairs or toilet facilities to a camp near Cologne in Germany. His first assignment as an MP was walking the streets protecting the camp motor pool and military supplies. Then he was promoted to riding trains to protect the supplies being transported for the mili-

The last 6 months in Germany, Paul received another promotion to a responsible position in the Railroad Transportation Office. Here he was in charge of monitoring incoming trains and the recording of incoming supplies. Paul was proud because he was assigned to a responsible position even though he had only an eighth grade education.

"We MPs were often moved from camp to camp so we would not become too acquainted or accustomed to the area. There were 200 MPs in our unit." The army asked the first sergeant to list names of 67 he wanted to retain. Paul was included. At 4:30 in the morning those 67 left immediately in a caravan of 21 2-ton trucks to another camp. They traveled one day eating K rations.

One duty was guarding American troops on a train who were being shipped back to the United States. These troops could not handle military life, were discharged and sent home. He was in five different camps while in Germany. Paul stated that when he was in Germany the Germans did not have adequate food and their inner cities and industrial areas were

States founded the Marshall Plan providing assistance to Germany enabling them to recover from World War II.

At the end of approximately one year in Germany, he was sent home. His twoweek voyage: Bremerhaven, North Sea, English Channel past the White Cliffs of Dover into the Atlantic, sailed south due to storms past Portugal and Spain near the Azores then across the Atlantic past the Statue of Liberty into New York, train to Fort Sheridan near Chicago, discharged, train to Waterloo, and finally home to Readlyn.

Paul married Marrillee Nerge, February 28, 1947 and they had nine children. The Paul Tiedt family is highlighted on the front page of the November issue of the Readlyn Chronicle. Paul and Marrilee farmed south of Klinger, retiring to Readlyn in 1989. As a hobby, Paul and Marrille became involved with poetry and have written many poems. Paul always loved music and taught himself to play the guitar. Paul and Marrilee used these more than 100 songs to entertain at nursing homes and other functions. Paul and Marrille have been blessed with a happy 70 years of marriage. Paul is a 94-yearold veteran, proud of his service in the United States Army.

Denver World War II Veterans

Art Kurtt was born December 16, 1926 and is now 93 years old. He played center on his outstanding high school basketball team. He graduated from DHS in 1944 and joined the US Navy soon after graduation. His basic training was in Farragut, Idaho. He was assigned to an Attack Personal Destroyer, a highly maneuverable vessel 300 feet in length. This ship patrolled both coasts of the US. At war's end their mission was to establish a weather station in Russia; however, this was just a ruse--the mission was to discover a hidden submarine base the Russians had established. They were eventually forced out of Russian waters.

Art was discharged in May of 1946. After discharge he worked a short while at Rath Packing Company and in construction, eventually ending up working in his Uncle Louie Kurtt's grocery store. He married Mildred Diercks, class of 1946, Readlyn High School class, in 1947. The family purchased the store from Louie. Art worked in that store for 60 years, the last 20 years after it was sold to Benders. His wife, Millie, died in 1995. Art was an avid golfer and fisherman and enjoys playing schaffskopf. I have heard Art referred to as "Mr. Denver." His rinderwurst was the greatest.

There are at least five other World War II veterans in the Denver area according to Butch Milius. They are Art VanErem, Dwayne Fasse, Bev Besh, Rallis Jensen, and Don Schmidt. At the past Veterans Day program a politician spoke! These World War II veterans are at least 93 years old. Are there not enough veterans in the Denver area who served in the WWII era, Korean War era, the Vietnam era or the recent Gulf War to honor, individually or collectively, for the service to their country?

Santa comes to Readlyn!

The Jason Franck family enjoys spending time with Santa Claus at the Readlyn Elementary Library for this event. Dec. 15.

Saturday morning, December 15, Santa made the long trip from the North Pole to come to Readlyn Elementary School and from 9 to 11:30 listened to nearly 100 of our children tell Santa what they would like for Christmas. With the small and young children, Santa could be heard asking the parents what the youngster would like for him to bring. Santa gave all of the children a beautifully decorated cookie baked by our local senior citizen Darlene Peters and Grump Larry Ladage gave each child a sack of goodies put together by the Community Club.

Parents, grandparents, and lots of other residents came and were treated to piped in music along with local students and guests performing vocal and instrumental numbers. After the children visited with Santa, they went to the other side of the room to listen to our own Miss Readlyn Cassidy Brunscheon read Christmas stories to them and give the kids some items donated by our own Readlyn Mutual.

Everyone attending enjoyed the hot chocolate, coffee, cookies and bars that were served. The cookies were donated by Sunrise Catering (Jim and Bev Collins), Readlyn Library (from the cookie walk last Saturday), and others.

Later in the morning, a drawing was held for 20 turkeys given away by the Community Club. Comments made by those attending include what a wonderful day it was. A big Thank You to Santa for making the long trip, Miss Readlyn for reading to the kids, The Grump, those performing musical selections, and the committee for organizing and setting up the gymnasium. Also, to the Wapsie Valley School District for allowing us to use the school for this event

Miss Readlyn Cassidy Brunscheon delighted the children in attendance by reading Christmas stories.

Readlyn's Grump Larry Ladage had the honor of distributing sacks of goodies put together by the Readlyn Community Club.

Probably the youngest child to attend the special day with Santa Claus was this twoweek-old (!) baby, accompanied by big sister.

This four-month-old child seems to be very intent on giving Santa his list.

"The Cabin"

It's the holiday season and each year the holidays roll around it always has me thinking of family and great friends. This article I'm not going to talk about one particular outdoor adventure, but rather a place that has played host to many outdoor adventures over time with great friends and family. This place is known by many of my closest friends and family as simply "The Cabin."

Imagine a group of four 13- to 14-yearold friends sitting at school one day in 1994 daydreaming about having a place to hang out, or hunt and well, I'll just say it, get into a little trouble. Myself, and my best friends, Michael Gearhart, Jake Harris, and Adam Farmer, started the plans for a small cabin in Michael's family farm timber.

Often these daydreams never turn into reality, but this time we were determined to make it happen. It's still hard for me to believe a place that was sketched out on a piece of notebook paper in study hall would become so special to me and hold so many memories over its 25-year existence.

The first step was to get the OK from Michael's dad, Andy, and step two was getting permission from Michael's grandfather, Bill. As nervous as we were to ask, both of them thought it was a very cool idea and even said they would assist us in the build. Soon after getting permission, Michael and I had already picked out where we wanted to build the cabin back in the timber and went in to clear out an area.

We situated it about 200 yards back in the woods on top of a ridge where we had a good vantage point from all sides. The very next weekend construction began. Andy donated old posts that would be our starting point of what everything was built from. Imagine setting posts in the middle of the timber, breaking through tree roots and rough soil with post-hole diggers. We were so pumped to be building, we didn't seem to mind. It's a good thing we were young!

Andy (Michael's dad) owns Gearhart Construction, so our notebook sketch evolved quickly into a better structure. From the poles we used leftover 2×6s from Bill's barn and he also donated old grain bin sheet metal to use for our siding. Jake's dad, Mark, also pitched in each weekend, but, for the most part, Andy and Mark guided us as we did the work.

We were so excited to stay out there that we would camp in tents on build weekends so we could start early. Sometimes through the week, Michael and I would ride our mopeds the 10-mile ride just to do a few things to it after school.

After three solid weekends of building the cabin had come together, Jake's dad had procured us a wood burning stove, and after installing the chimney the structure was complete. A 12×20 cabin with a loft on each side!

We were beyond excited and starting staying there each weekend we could. In the cabin's humble beginnings it had a gravel floor and we used lanterns for light. As time went on, we became more comfortable. Around 1998 or so, Michael, his cousin Chris, Andy, and Bill poured a concrete floor inside the cabin. After that, the comforts of home soon followed.

As my Dad and I started to use it as lodging for bowhunting, soon walls were finished, a countertop was installed along with a sink, with a two-burner propane stove and 12-volt lights throughout to eliminate the lanterns. As more time went on, the walls are all insulated now, comfortable beds have been brought in, along with a flat screen television and a shower. Like I said, a long ways from where we started and hardly roughing it anymore.

So many memories flood back to me as I drive down the dirt road into the cabin each time, from our early days of sleeping in tents to build, to the hunting lodge it is today. Some that stand out are a few of our high school shenanigans that maybe I better not go into detail on in this article, but teenagers will be teenagers and some of our high school parties at the cabin will live on in the memories of many! As we got a little older, the cabin started getting used for its original purpose, a hunting lodge. One of my favorite memories of Michael's grandparents, who at the time owned the farm, was in the fall of 2000. It was December 23 and I was muzzleloader hunting at the cabin by myself. I had just shot the biggest buck at the time I'd ever taken. So, needless to say, I was very excited. This was pre-cell phone for me and I had recovered the deer and field dressed it. I quickly raced down to the farm and burst into the house (I never had to knock at Bill and Joyce's). I'll never forget the look on Joyce's face as I exclaimed, "I need to use the phone!" covered in blood from field dressing the deer. It took a good five minutes to get her calmed down and convince her no one was hurt and I'd simply shot a deer and needed to call to get help getting him out!

All of my Dad's and my biggest deer have come from the cabin. Another memory is the morning my dad shot his biggest buck with a bow, a 169-inch 11-pointer. I'll never forget the look of accomplishment in his eyes as I walked up to the cabin that November 4 morning and he had his arms raised high and relayed to me what he'd done. Or the November 1 morning nine years later when I got to excitedly tell him about my biggest bow buck! And now the recent memories of taking my daughter to the cabin and her enjoying the land with my friends' kids.

I've come to realize I could probably write a book of all the different memories, funny stories, and hunts at the cabin over the years. But what probably stands out the most is the simple times of just hanging out with dad discussing hunts or reminiscing over a beverage with Jake, Michael, and Adam. It's funny how it works out that some of the simplest things turn out the most memorable.

I have a lot to be thankful for this holiday season: my wife and daughter, family and friends, a new job, house, and I got to spend a day on the water with my childhood hero, Kevin Vandam! And I'm always thankful to the Gearhart family for all these memories over the years. Andy and Martha, Michael and Missy have always treated me like family and make their family farm feel like coming home each time. It's still crazy to think a small 12×20 cabin could turn out to be such a big part of my life. Happy Holidays, everyone and until next time, Get Outdoors!!

Also, an update on Kayla. She has completed her surgery and is doing great! Her family has planned a benefit celebration, check out the picture in the ad in this issue of the Chronicle. I hope to see you there!
